

More than just a market

MARKET NEWS 31st MAY 2016

Manager's Mutterings

Typical post Bank Holiday Tuesday here at Melton with rain most of the day, with car parks full again with plenty of farmers & tourists alike.

Tom had an increased entry in the fat section with prices seeing some resurgence for fat lambs. Quality was at a marked premium and with ten active buyers, more could have been sold to ready advantage. It was nice to see a few new and returning faces in the sheep shed, all enjoying the trade. If you have any ewes and lambs you wish to market please give Tom a ring as buyers are still looking.

The fat cattle section is working well with nice quality cattle forward this week with buyers keen at present. A few plainer sorts in, though selling well brought the average down a bit which did not reflect the trade. The top grossing cattle now back up to £1,500. It was not long ago that £1,400 was a good price. This seems to increase week on week at present with fewer numbers available at the moment.

A few less store cattle around today but more expected next week, but prices remain good.

Tom and I and the staff invite you to the Rutland Show on Sunday for a drink and light refreshments. We are situated near the cattle lines.

I will be judging the commercial cattle at the show and I know many of our customers may be showing, so if you are not picked out as the winner it will not be personal.

I am pleased to announce that Lin Machin has agreed to add the Antiques and Collectables market to her existing management of the Farmers Market. Please join me in welcoming her to the role and I am sure both markets will thrive as a result. Lin can be contacted on 01664 784 704, fm@meltonmowbraymarket.co.uk.
