Index	Average	Top 25%	Top 10%	Top 5%	Top 1%
Terminal Expected change in profit per terminal lamb born	£4.03	£5.13	£6.12	£6.71	£7.81
Replacement Expected change in profit per replacement lamb born	£4.23	£5.37	£6.40	£7.01	£8.17

The texelplus economic indexes have been developed to make them simpler to use and understand, supporting an increased focus on commercial traits and profitability.

As a result, there are two indexes for the Texel breed: a terminal index and a replacement index, reflecting the breed's influence on the industry. Both are presented as the potential profit per lamb born in a commercial setting, compared to the population average.

In simple terms, the higher the value, the better the performance of the animal.

The terminal index is focused on increasing profitability and improving the end product, so is weighted strongly for meat production. The replacement index also includes additional maternal traits to optimise production of female replacements.

Commercial producers solely producing prime lambs should use the terminal index to inform their selection; however, those retaining female replacements should use the replacement index.

Sub-indexes underpin the indexes to provide more information on the relative values of growth, carcass quality, reproduction and adult size.

An example

If Ram A has a terminal index of £7.50 and Ram B has a terminal index of £6.00, both rams could produce 75 lambs; lambs sired by ram A could generate up to £1.50 more profit each than those sired by ram B, through shorter finishing times and improved carcass quality.

Trait weighting

Different emphases are given to individual traits between the terminal and replacement indexes. This results in different sub-index values.

Reproduction sub-index

The commercial benefit of lambing ease, litter size and maternal ability. Promotes optimum litter sizes and better mothers.

Adult size sub-index

The benefit of mature size as a replacement ewe. Promotes smaller animals as they require less maintenance.

Growth sub-index

Captures the benefit from growth using eight-week weight and scan weight information. Faster growth is more advantageous.

Carcass sub-index

The value of muscle and fat weight in the carcass. Encourages muscle growth with fat cover.

Accuracy

A measure of accuracy of the index. The higher the number the better.

Index values

The sum of the sub-index values and potential profit per lamb born for terminal and replacement production.

Ranking

Where the animal ranks compared to the current average animal.
